THE ALEXANDRIA COURTS

Litigation Disposed of in the Circuit Tribunal.

The Consumers' Brewing Company Secures More Time—Testimony Ordered Filed in the Matter of the Fort Myer Improvement Company Against the Falls Church Railroad.

After a session of four days in the County Court House at Fort Myer Heights, the Circuit Court of Alexandria county adjourned last night for the term. Matters of importance were disposed of and a decree entered providing for arguments in the Military Road case during the vacation of the court. These will probably be heard next month at Manassas. Today Judge Love is holding a special session of the Alexandria County Court to provide for release of certain prisoners on bail, pending trial.

When the Circuit Court, Judge C. E. Nichol presiding, convened yesterday, the case of certain persons against the Consumers' Brewing Company, of Rosslyn, asking for a receiver and an accounting, was called, and upon motion of counsel for the company, went over until Saturday next at Manassas, when it will be heard in chambers.

The case of the Fort Myer Heights Land and Improvement Company against the Washington, Arlington, and Falls Church Railway Company, involving the alleged non-performance of certain obligations by the Railway Company, came to the attention of the court. It was directed that testimony in the matter be filed and March 17 next was set for the trial of the case. Several motions by counsel in the Military Road case were granted, including a plea by the Commonwealth for a brief continuance, in order to prepare the full testimony in the case. The defense also favored a continuance, but gave notice that a trial would be welcomed by them in the near future. The court upon the granted delay and will fix a day during vacation for arguments in the appeal from the lower court.

This case involves the right of certain heirs of land across the river, represented by Dulany & Marshall, attorneys, of this city, to close what is known as the Military Road, lying between the Aqueduct Bridge and the Fort Myer reservation. In a trial of the cases before the County Court Mr. Marshall, of counsel for the heirs, was found guilty of obstructing a public highway and placed under $500 bond pending the preparation on an appeal to the Circuit Court.

In the County Court Tuesday last Commonwealth's Attorney R. W. Johnson, notwithstanding a former verdict of guilty rendered by Justice W. U. Varney, declined to continue the prosecution of the case of the Commonwealth against R. H. Phillips, Manager of the Washington, Arlington and Falls Church Railway Company, charged with obstructing the public highways of the county, by alleged failure of the company to properly grade crossings. After hearing statements of counsel for the company, James E. Clements, the court directed that the case be dismissed for lack of prosecution.

THINGS THEATRICAL.

The stage story of Henry Sienkiewicz's fascinating novel, "Quo Vadis?" will have its first presentation in Washington on next Monday evening at the Columbia Theatre. This version, which is by Stanislaus Strange, is said to closely follow the original, introducing such familiar characters as Vinicius, Petronius, Nero, Chilo, Ursus, Tigellinus, Claudius, Vindex, Poppaea, Pomponia, Eunice, and Logia. That these characters will be faithfully interpreted is guaranteed by the information that the production company includes Joseph Haworth, Arthur Forrest, Edmund Lyons, and Roselle Knott, besides many others of almost equal merit. Altogether, it seems that the production of "Quo Vadis?" will prove interesting in every way. Seats are selling.

Last time Ching Ling Foo, the Chinese magician, visited Washington, the Grand, at which he appeared, had twelve record-breaking performances. The same thing promises to occur here, as the left uncle Celestial is to return or another engagement. Ching heads a promising bill now, among those included on the program being Mr. Arthur Forrest, Edmund Lyons, whose sketch is entitled "The Counsel for the Defence"; George Evans, former minstrel and monologist; Kove and Edwards, comedians; Ray Graham, who claims to be the original Sir Hopkins; the "musical" Cobys, instrumentalists; and Charles King, "the Boy with the Organ." Where Arthur Forrest, Edmund Lyons, and Roselle Knott, besides many others of almost equal merit. Altogether, it seems that the production of "Quo Vadis?" will prove interesting in every way. Seats are selling.

The Mitchell Sisters, sopranos; Marie Beaudre, the English music hall favorite; the Harveys and the Scholastics, the three "Marvellous" Merrills, trick bicycle riders; Kolb and Dill, German comedians; Veturia Brinkley, serio-comic; the Todd-Judge family of acrobats; C. F. Leonard, monologist, and C. C. Whelan, the humorist, compose the bill promised by the managers of Irwin's "Majestic" Burlesquers, which was announced last week at Korman's. In addition, a fore and an after, respectively entitled "Down the Line" and "The Kneelpiece; or, The Kissing Bug." To be an excellent and thoroughly equipped one. It should do well here.

RECRUITS MUSTERED IN.

The Second Regiment of the D. C. N. G. Gets Some New Material.

The regular muster-in ceremonies of the Second Regiment of the District of Columbia National Guard was held last night at the National Guard Armory. The movements were executed, and in the presence of raw recruits made their first public appearance.

The military movements were followed by a dance, which was largely attended. Music was furnished by the National Guard Brigade Band.

Died While Asleep.

TASLEY, Va., March 8.—The only daughter of Fisher Mears, a prominent farmer, near Loupville, was found dead in bed yesterday morning. Mrs. Mears slept with her daughter and arising early left her undisturbed, supposing that she was asleep. As she did not arise at her usual hour, the mother went to the bedroom and found that she was dead and was probably dead when she left her an hour before. The death of this young lady was probably due to heart failure. She was about seventeen years of age.

Whooping Cough.

Two years ago my little three-year-old boy had the whooping cough and after several physicians had prescribed for him without giving him relief, I prevailed on my wife to try a twenty-five cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The first dose had the desired effect, and within forty-eight hours he was entirely relieved of all cough. I consider this remedy the best on the market for whooping cough, and recommend it all times. W. L. Ferguson, Druggist, Bolton, Miss. For sale by Henry Evans, wholesale and retail, and all druggists.

ATTACKED BY A BURGLAR

Quong Sing's Struggle With An Unknown Colored Man.

A Chinaman Probably Loses an Eye While Protecting His Property—An Epidemic of Robberies of Larcenies—The Police Seem Powerless to Break It Up—Arrests Infrequent.

Added to the murderous assault with intent to rob committed on Moy Sing early Saturday morning and the numerous robberies of other Chinamen within the past three weeks is the injury to Quong Sing in an attempt to rob him at about 11:30 o'clock last night. The Chinaman successfully defended his property but he did so at the probable cost of the sight of one eye. The organ was struck by a piece of flying glass and it is thought that the sight is permanently destroyed. The Chinaman was not otherwise injured. His assailant would be robber escaped.

Quong Sing conducts a laundry at 508 Four-and-a-half Street southwest. He was disturbed last night by a peculiar sound at his back door. The door had been left unlocked, and Quong Sing, hearing the noise, and fearing intruders, hastened to face them. He was just in time to prevent the entrance of a burglar, who had pushed it open. Quong Sing found it necessary to use all of his strength to force the door shut and lock it. He was injured while doing this.

During the brief struggle at the entrance the infuriated robber struck viciously through the slight opening at Quong Sing. Where he fell on the floor in the upper door and the shattered pane scattered in all directions. One piece of glass cut into Quong Sing's eye inflicting a serious injury. The burglar then fled.

Quong Sing procured his police whistle and sounded several distress calls. When the police arrived on the scene no trace of the burglar could be found. All the police could learn from Quong Sing was that the man who attempted to enter the laundry was colored. Quong Sing refused to go to a hospital, but it is said he received medical attention. At a late hour the would-be robber had not been apprehended.

The condition of Moy Sing who was shot while defending his property at the corner of Tenth and P Streets northwest, Saturday morning was today reported to be improved. He is still confined at the Hospital with a bullet lodged in the left shoulder blade. His assailant has not been apprehended.

HEALTH OF THE DISTRICT.

A Large Decrease in the Death Rate During the Week.

The deaths that occurred in the District during the past week were 13 per cent less than in the preceding week. They numbered 54, as against 108, of which 54 were of white and 40 colored persons. The annual death rate declined, consequently, from 19.67 per thousand of the whole population to 17; that for the whites falling to 14.15 and for the colored to 23.38. The mortality from acute lung diseases fell from 15 to 10; from heart diseases from 17 to 13, and from affections of the brain and nervous system from 16 to 12, while that from consumption rose from 10 to 13. There was 1 fatal case of diphtheria, 1 of measles, and 2 of typhoid fever.

At the close of last report there were 66 cases of diphtheria in quarantine. During the week there were 19 new cases and 20 were discharged, leaving 56 cases in isolation in 42 premises.

Of scarlet fever there were 35 cases under observation at the close of last report, in 70 premises. During the week 10 new cases occurred and 25 were discharged, leaving 70 cases with warning cards in 52 premises.
